This Year's Catalog on our 33rd Anniversary is Dedicated to:

Seco Mayfield

This year's catalog is dedicated to the two most prominent warehousemen involved in the sale of the Angora goat's most precious commodity, mohair.

Steve Haynes was born and raised in Del Rio, Texas. He spent much of his childhood at the ranch at Carta Valley with his grandparents, Teil and Clara Bishop. It was started by his great grandparents Buck and Laura Alline Henderson Bishop. Steve is a fourth generation rancher. Steve has been married to Annie Haynes for 46 years.

Steve Haynes

They raised their children, Teil and Rebekah on the ranch and today live on the ranch and raise Angora goats, sheep and cattle. Steve started as manager at the Priour Varga warehouse in 1994. Through his adept management, it is one of the leading facilities for marketing mohair in the U.S. For several years he bought mohair for the French company, Filatur Francais until it was absorbed by another company. This greatly enriched his knowledge of the workings of the global mohair market. He traveled to Lille, France to the mohair processing facility and worked with key individuals in the mohair industry. Some of his mentors include Glynn Varga, David Lawford, Dale Priour and Ford Oglesby. He is very active in the community, serving on the Rocksprings ISD school board 12 years, the Edwards County Appraisal Board and Review Board. He currently serves on the Edwards County USDA Farm Services Committee. He also served on the board of Rio Grande Electric for years, including two terms as president. He is a member of Grace Lutheran Church in Del Rio.

Jason Bannowsky, a long time wool and mohair buyer, had this to say about Steve.

"I have known Steve and have been trading with him for over 25 years now, and not once have we had a trade that did not go well or an issue we couldn't resolve, and that is something to be proud of. There probably has not been a more honest person in the business than Steve. I heard a saying once that said, "he is so honest that you could shoot dice with him over the phone, with him holding the dice", and that saying definitely applies to Steve. He has always placed a high emphasis on quality through sorting and putting the most money back in the growers' pocket. Steve has had the opportunity in his tenure to buy for an overseas firm, at the same time while running the warehouse representing the growers. Not many people could juggle those two positions. It takes somebody with high trade ethics and extreme honesty, and he never compromised his role with either.

Seco Mayfield started learning about mohair during the summers and holidays while working on his father's ranch. He is quick to mention several mentors in addition to his father, Stanley B. Mayfield, who helped him learn more about the land, livestock, and adding value to mohair and wool. The Earwood family helped establish guidelines for his Angora goat commercial breeding program early in his operation. The support and guidance from industry innovators such as Armer Earwood, Fred Campbell, Glen Fisher, David Lawford, and Fritz Kuebel, was essential to Seco as a young producer.

Area ranchers established the Sonora Wool and Mohair Warehouse in 1929. In the spring of 1997, Seco was asked to be the interim manager, a position which he continues to hold. Seco is known for working closely with fellow warehousemen and industry leaders, championing the producers, and maintaining relationships built on mutual respect from the buyers.

Seco is also a supporter and leader of our multi-species agriculture industry. He has served as President of the Mohair Council of America and on the Boards of several organizations, including the Texas Wool and Mohair Warehouse Association, the Sonora Caverns, and the Sonora Chamber of Commerce.

For six generations, Seco's family has ranched and been involved with livestock. Seco, along with his sister Gerry, continues the family tradition of raising commercial angoras and fine wool sheep in Sonora. His son, Ed Mayfield, helps run the ranch and is a partner in the goat operation.

Jason Bannowsky had this to say about Seco:

"Since I got in the wool and mohair business in 1993, Seco has always been fixture at Sonora Wool and Mohair. He has always placed extreme emphasis on sorting mohair, allowing him to market clips to get more money in the growers pocket. Seco went more to marketing his mohair through sealed bid sales, and more people started realizing the incentive of properly sorting their mohair by seeing prices on the sorted clips vs unsorted clips. Now, virtually all the mohair in Texas is sorted. There has probably not been a bigger proponent for the Angora goat industry than Seco. From serving as president of the Mohair Council, raising Angora goats, marketing mohair and his input to the industry through the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers, Seco has served the industry well. For me, Seco is one of the people that makes this a fun business, always a laugh but very serious when it comes down to business."

David Lawford, a longtime mohair buyer who grew up in South Africa, sums it up best with the following thoughts:

Texas Warehousemen
A Buyers perspective

In world terms Texas has a unique marketing system for mohair – local warehouses serving growers across the state – a long standing set of businesses – oftentimes managed or owned by men of significant stature.

- Since the 1990's two men have emerged as prominent leaders.
- Steve Haynes - Priour Varga Wool & Mohair Rocksprings TX
- Seco Mayfield – Sonora Wool & Mohair Sonora TX
- Two individuals, fiercely independent, fiercely competitive and totally committed to the growers and industry that they represent.
- Both are active ranchers and mohair growers
- Both are proponents of grading mohair prior sale - a proven benefit to their customers and buyers.
- Both have survived tough years, warehouses bulging with inventory and limited sales, sometimes at awful prices.
- Both are still here today in different times - good prices and woefully small tonnages.
- Both do it because they love it – it is certainly not for the money!
- Both share the respect of the mohair buyers.
- Both deserve the title
- "True Texas Warehousemen"

REFERENCE SIREs

A.B. Hobson & Sons Martysford Stud

76 (1991) - This buck was sired by K131, the twin to the Martysford buck that sold for 110,000 Rand, a world record price. He combined the size, muscle, thickness, and correctness of a superior meat goat with a typical soft South African mohair fleece.

422 (1991) - This buck was Mike Hobson's selection for the partnership. His sire was an outstanding producer for the Hobsons. Phenotypically this buck was well balanced but not flashy. However, he was a "blue blood" stud, he consistently produced quality kids, both straight South African and "cross".

04 (1993) - In 1994 Mike Hobson, Fred Speck, and Hayden Haby returned to South Africa and selected this buck for the second importation. His conformation was near perfect. His offspring have fine fleeces.

80 (1993) - This buck was also selected by Hobson, Speck, and Haby for the second importation. His sire was a Thorn Park buck purchased at the dispersal sale by A.B. Hobson and Brett Wienand. Haby really liked this big, tall long bodied buck.
